

Untouched Sri Lanka

a photographic exhibition to help rebuild tsunami affected homes

Ewen Bell's photographic collection was captured just days before the Boxing Day tsunami. It celebrates what is unique and lovely about Sri Lanka. The photographs are images of beautiful people, special places, little objects and treasured moments. The exhibition serves to remind us why Sri Lanka is still a wonderful travel destination.

All proceeds from the evening will go to Habitat for Humanity Australia in order to fund the building of new housing in tsunami effected regions. Every $1000 dollars raised on the night equates to one more family with a home.

Photographs and sponsor donations will be sold by silent auction - This event is for one night only!

When: 02 February 2005, 6pm-9pm

Where: Zinc at Federation Square
